VIANA BERESFORD

Over the years I have worked in various management and executive roles in both the Retail and Health Care industries, however have been running my own business for the last 5 years or so. When Covid 19 first arrived In WA in Mid-Late March and the in home lock downs came into effect, I was home schooling my two children, but with my business inactive was able to volunteer to assist with sewing first face masks for my local elderly population, but then with Get Scrubbed WA which had been newly formed. This quickly turned into an administration role within the group, which had attracted over 4500 members within a week and needed urgent infection control protocols and stock control set up, along with maintaining the group itself. Myself and fellow volunteer Admin, Nicole Abbot, who is highly active within numerous volunteer organisations, have been running the group and seeing it evolve ever since. Both of us are now juggling jobs, children and NDIS (both having children with disabilities) whilst juggling the volunteer work Get Scrubbed WA work that is now almost a full time job in itself. Both Nicole and I both believe strongly in being able to support and give back to local community, with Nicole doing significant other volunteer work as well, and we both believe that kindness and community is key. The things we have achieved in such a short time, the community we have built and the impact we have been able to make across many different aspects and locations, not just within Australia has been an amazing project to be a part of, and we plan to continue the group and allow it to evolve to meet the different needs of communities, and to allow our volunteers to continue to come together to sew together, connect together and support one another as well as those in need.

He was an Attadale Charter Member in 1982; Past President 1991-1992; and received a Paul Harris with Sapphire in 2004.
