Guest Speaker ~ Fiona Scarff ~ A research Scientist at Murdoch University 'Cat Bib Study ~ Protection of our Wildlife'

Dr Fiona Scarff

Dr Fiona Scarff, is a Murdoch University, Research Associate in Environmental and Conservation Sciences. Fiona and her team are carrying out a study on how effective cat bibs can be in protecting wildlife from prowling cats.

Dr Scarff says waking up to entrails in the garden is often part and parcel of cat ownership, but many people feel it's something they can't control.

Cats naturally hunt prey and target native species picking on birds foraging and nesting close to the ground, small mammals – like quendas, and reptiles.

In response, the university developed the cat bib several years ago, and Dr Scarff now wants to test some new designs.

The research team believe that the bib provides a big block of colour that alerts prey animals and physically interferes with the cat's pounce.

Cats wearing the bib are still able to run, jump, climb, groom, feed and snooze as normal.

The bibs have already been shown to be highly effective in reducing bird captures, and also provide a level of protection to other prey animals.

The research unit has been involved in studies of cats and their foraging behaviour for over three decades. They have explored topics such as what cats eat, how far they roam and their impact on wildlife.

Thankyou!!

Is your cat a hunter? - we may be able to help

Dr Scarff is currently looking for new research participants and is enrolling people who “own cats, love their cats, but are worried about the impact of their cats on local wildlife”.

We're looking for cat owners who'd be prepared to volunteer their moggy for a 6-week trial of the bib. People anywhere in Perth and the south-west of WA can participate, but we need cats that are active hunters, bringing in at least one prey item a week.

If you know someone who might be interested, please pass on our details, catbibstudy@gmail.com.

For more information, visit <https://catbibstudy.wixsite.com/research>

Dr Scarff also spoke about the problem of feral cats across Australia.

Dr Fiona Scarff was a delightful guest speaker and her interesting talk was appreciated by all.

Winners

The winner of the Door Prize was Greg.
Colin was also the winner of the Raffle, but not the Joker.

Reports

'Music in the Air' 2020

Colin reported to the meeting that the feedback to the Southside Symphony Orchestra after last year's concert was that we would like the next concert to be a little lighter, something bright to start, have more popular pieces that people would recognise and have more from the vocalists.

The Musical Director was keen to have a theme, so it was suggested, movies and musicals. Their suggested programme has met all of our requests and will be absolutely fabulous!

Sausage Sizzle Saturday December 14

Colin said we need more volunteers to help out on the day and to help cut buns and sausages on the day before, Friday December 13.

He will send out an email asking people to indicate when they are able to assist.

We are trying to source buns that are already cut, or easier to cut, as the ones we had last time were quite different in size and difficult to cut, so we ended up with a few problems and a lot of buns we couldn't use. We only have two sausage sizzles a year, so we need to make the most of the opportunity to raise some money, so we can help those in need.

Sausage Sizzle for Kate Pearson

Colin spoke about Kate, our National Youth Science Forum candidate, who had a sausage sizzle at East Victoria Park last Saturday. Kate and family were hoping to sell about 250 sausage sizzles but ended up selling over 300, which with drinks, would have probably earned them over $500. This will help pay for Kate's NYSF expenses.

We were happy to facilitate Kate's sausage sizzle by providing our public liability insurance.

Headphones for Dementia

Gillian reported that she and Betty took four head phone sets out to Anja Danner who is the Lifestyle coordinator at Opal Care Murdoch. Anja has some experience using headphones to assist those with dementia and she will conduct a trial with four residents with dementia. Music will be selected to suit their interests

Anja will keep a record of the music that is used and any outcomes that the staff see.

Rotary Youth Leadership Awards (RYLA)

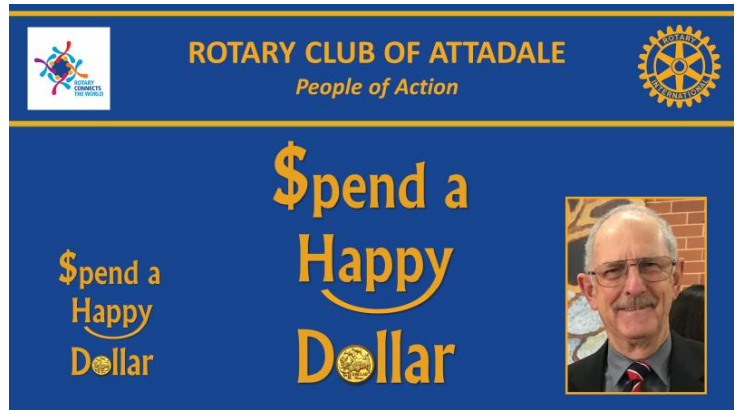

Gillian was very pleased to announce that Erol Ceniza, Abby and Kerry's international student has been selected to attend the RYLA camp which is an intensive leadership experience organized by Rotary clubs and districts where you develop your skills as a leader while having fun and making connections.

Happy Dollars

Colin filled in for Mick who was unable to attend at the last minute.

He entertained the meeting with various Happy Dollars and a few fines.

If anyone would like a copy of the delightful "Dis" story please email Colin.

Ian put out a challenge/request for people to submit suggestions for guest speakers for next year.

If everyone came up with one, it would be a great help.

Carole was happy to announce that she had a new car and would pay $2.00 for every wheel.

Heather was delighted to announce that during the weekend while holidaying at their beach house, Keith finished writing their Christmas letter.

USB's Wanted

Abby and Kerry are after as many USB's as possible for their students to use in their studies. If you can help please contact them to arrange handing them over.

New Tea towels Wanted

Trish Sharp helps out at Meals on Wheels, in the kitchen where her daughter is the chef. She was saying how they desperately need a lot of new tea towels. If anyone would like to donate a tea towel or two to this worthy cause, please bring them along to the meeting.

Thank You

Thank you to Colin and Gail for making delicious chocolate chip cookies for us to enjoy with tea and coffee.

Offers to cook for next week
